

VISIT VICKSBURG

The Key to the South

During the Civil War Vicksburg's strategic position on the bluffs high above a massive bend in the Mississippi River made it virtually impenetrable. Visit the site of the defining battle of America's defining war. Learn about the defense and siege of Vicksburg in our unique collection of museums and historic tour homes. Surrender yourself to the luxury of our bed and breakfast inns and relax, it all runs on river time!

KEY TO EXPLORING MIGHTY MISSISSIPPI: There is something about living near a body of water of great power that is always with you. T.S. Eliot wrote: "The oceans surround us, the river is within us." For those of us who live near the Mississippi River these words have special meaning. The river is a constant companion. The river is a constant source of awe and inspiration. The river is a constant source of reverence and a place for reflection. The river is indeed, "within us."

Here in Vicksburg we have, from our 300-foot bluffs, one of the most commanding views of the Mississippi River to be seen anywhere from the headwaters at Lake Itasca to the mouth of the river just south of New Orleans. This position high above the river made Vicksburg the river's most strategic point during the Civil War. In fact, President Abraham Lincoln stated that, "See what a lot land these fellows hold, of which Vicksburg is the key, and the war can never be brought to a close until that key is in our pocket."

Day 1: Arrive in Vicksburg by the Great River Road and take in the breathtaking views of the Mighty Mississippi from one of our scenic overlooks at Louisiana Circle or Navy Circle off South Washington Street. Be sure to stop by the Warren County State Welcome Center and visit with one of our friendly travel counselors at the Visit Vicksburg Information Desk.

Check into your hotel or bed and breakfast inn and get ready for a fantastic meal at one of our local restaurants. With over 115 restaurants to choose from, we are sure to satisfy any craving. After dinner, rest up for a busy day.

Day 2: After breakfast and your morning coffee, head to our Downtown District for a day of touring at our museums. Start your day at the Old Court House Museum to get a full history of Vicksburg and how the Mississippi River has affected the city's citizens through the years. (1 hour) →

Head to Washington Street to tour the Jesse Brent Lower Mississippi River Museum and Interpretive Site which will give you a glimpse at what life is like along the river through both interactive and static displays. Make the city flood, tour the decks of the Motor Vessel Mississippi IV or adventure along the Mississippi River through a game similar to Oregon Trail to see if you could survive river life. Be sure to visit with one of our friendly travel counselors while at the museum to help you narrow down your lunch choice. (2 hours)

Have lunch at one of our fantastic restaurants in the Downtown District within walking distance of our museums. (1 hour)

After lunch, travel down to Catfish Row along Levee Street and stop in at the Old Depot Museum to learn how transportation along the river has progressed and see over 250 ship models, exhibits of tow boats and riverboats, large Civil War gunboat collections and U.S. Navy vessels named for people and places of Mississippi. Be sure to stop in the gift shop for a souvenir. (1 hour)

After your museum tour, visit the Catfish Row Children's Art Park and check out the Vicksburg Riverfront Murals which depict periods of history in Vicksburg. The murals consist of 32 life-like pictorial murals by Robert Dafford and 1 abstract mural by Vicksburg artist Martha Ferris which recognizes three vital arteries feeding Vicksburg's diversity – the river, the railroad and the highway. (1 hour)

Go back to your hotel or bed and breakfast inn and rest up before dinner. For views of the Mississippi River, Yazoo Diversion Canal, Centennial Lake and the Mississippi Delta, head up to 10 South Rooftop Bar and Grill for a truly breathtaking dining experience. (1.5 hours)

Day 3: If you are a true adventurer, schedule a trip with Layne Logue at our Quapaw Canoe Outpost for a trip out on the Mighty Mississippi by canoe or kayak. Be sure to take snacks and your camera for your up close experience with Old Man River. Share your pictures on social media using our hashtag #VisitVicksburg. (5 hours)
